Hi,

Although I am working in Norway as skilled worker and not studying, yet considering tuition fee for the Non EU/EEA students is a discrimination against the others. By this decision only rich people from outside EU/EEA can attend to universities in Norway and people from other countries with higher education and bright minds will be eliminated. Moreover, after implementing tuition fee on universities, since the students from outside EU/EEA will decline the Norway will suffer from the lack of skilled people who might be willing to stay and live in Norway.

with regards

Ehsan
